Kondor business growth creates more jobs

Two new trade sales advisers have joined the Kondor team to manage both existing and new business accounts and to develop leads in the independent sector. Another dedicated product manager has also joined – with more recruitment in account management to follow.

Marco Astesiano and Dan Cann join to focus on key targets in the non-traditional sectors. Joseph Fisher, Trade Sales Manager for Kondor said “It’s great to be able to report strong growth in such challenging economical times. We are investing in additional personnel in order to spend time identifying growth areas for our customers. Marco and Dann are welcome members of the team who, amongst other things, can concentrate on developing online trade accounts through our Etailor service.”

Managing Director Rob Haycock is keen to emphasise the reasons behind the company growth “Sales have been strong due to the added-value services, such as Etailor, we are offering our customers and our developing product range. Perhaps more importantly, these sales can also be attributed to the strong supplier partnerships we have developed, which enable us to offer our customers great value.”

Ends.
